

Definition

If a sum with a variable number of terms is shown to equal an expression that does not contain either an ellipsis or a summation symbol, we say that the sum is written in closed form.

For example, writing $1+2+3+\dots+n = \frac{n(n+1)}{2}$ expresses the sum $1+2+3+\dots+n$ in closed form.